There are traces of a settlement at the Rhine knee from the early La Tène period (5th century BC). In the 2nd century BC, there was a village of the Raurici at the site of Basel-Gasfabrik, to the northwest of the Old City, likely identical with the town of Arialbinnum mentioned on the Tabula Peutingeriana. The unfortified settlement was abandoned in the 1st century BC in favour of an oppidum ...

In SGML, HTML and XML documents, the logical constructs known as character data and attribute values consist of sequences of characters, in which each character can manifest directly (representing itself), or can be represented by a series of characters called a character reference, of which there are two types: a numeric character reference and a character entity reference.

List of XML and HTML character entity references - Wikipedia

Entity references are used to insert special characters and symbols that are not part of the document's character set or are otherwise difficult to type. For example, the copyright symbol (©) can be inserted using the entity reference ©. The list below contains all the entity references defined in the XML and HTML specifications.
