What is A Rhetorical answer? | Yahoo Answers

A rhetorical question is a figure of speech in the form of a question that is asked to make a point rather than to elicit an answer. Though a rhetorical question does not require a direct answer, in many cases it may be intended to start a discussion or at least draw an acknowledgement that the listener understands the intended message.

Rhetorical question - Wikipedia

user/MayContainNugat explains Newton's bucket, Mach's principle and Einstein's relativity . My question is of course inspired by the idea of creating artificial gravity in space. To put it into other words: if Newton's laws apparently act differently in a rotating frame of reference, does this mean there is some absolute inertial frame of reference in our universe?
